Duration of Employment

For temporary staff employees, the duration of employment assignment is governed by the State Personnel Commission as a means of controlling discrimination with regard to leave, medical, and/or retirement benefit entitlements. Temporary staff employees have no benefit entitlements.

1. Temporary employees who are hired to work a regular schedule of 19 hours or less per week may be employed for periods of up to 12 months. Such employment may be renewed annually for additional periods of up to 12 months.
2. Temporary employees who are hired to work an irregular or intermittent schedule may be employed for periods of up to 12 months. The hours worked may not exceed 988 hours during any 12 month period. Such employment may be renewed annually for additional periods of up to 12 months.
3. Temporary employees who are hired to work a regular schedule of 20 or more hours per week may be employed for periods up to eleven months. When sufficiently justified, an extension of the employment period for an additional month (total employment period of 12 months) may be requested and is subject to prior approval by Human Resources. However, in no case shall the period of temporary employment at 20 or more hours per week exceed a total of 12 months.
4. Temporary employees initially hired to work a regular schedule of 20 or more hours per week may have their employment converted to an irregular or intermittent schedule at any time as long as the hours worked do not exceed 988 hours during any 12 month period. The employee is eligible for renewed temporary employment.
5. Appointment to vacant permanent SPA positions for specified periods of less than six months are considered temporary appointments. Appointments for specified periods of greater than six months (up to a maximum period of three years) are considered time-limited appointments and are benefits eligible. (See PIM-43, Recruitment and Selection of Employees Subject to the State Personnel Act).
6. Appointments to vacant permanent EPA staff positions for specified periods of less than six months are considered temporary appointments. Appointments for specific periods of six months or longer are permanent appointments.
7. Temporary employees who are hired to work temporarily in a vacant permanent position may be appointed for no less than two weeks.
MEMORANDUM

To: Academic Affairs Budget Office Personnel
From: Research and Economic Development Staff on behalf of Bob Wilhelm
Date: May 2, 2014
Re: Guidance on the Issue of Postdoctoral Fellows Teaching Classes

The question has arisen recently about whether Postdoctoral Fellows should be allowed to teach courses in addition to their fulltime research duties paid for by grant funds. Vice Chancellor Wilhelm has determined that Postdoctoral Fellows are subject to University Policy 101.15, “Additional Compensation for Professional Services to the University,” just as any other EPA staff member would be. Provost Lorden has determined that University Policy 102.10, “Employment of Postdoctoral Fellows,” does not need to be revised; rather this issue will be handled by internal memorandum, and Research and Economic Development guidance is provided herein.

This guidance is for Postdoctoral Fellows who want to teach a course as permitted by University Policy 101.15. Postdoctoral Fellows may teach a course (limited to one course per semester) in addition to their regular duties. The payment for teaching a course will be treated as incidental compensation for work in excess of normal duties. Grant funds may not be used to pay for such teaching assignments.

Please note that this guidance does not cover cases where units want to split fund a Postdoctoral Fellow for different projects from different fund sources. Those instances will be handled by the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development on a case-by-case basis as a normal part of the Postdoc’s employment process.

Comprehensive Standard 3.7.1 of the Principles of Accreditation reads as follows:

The institution employs competent faculty members qualified to accomplish the mission and goals of the institution. When determining acceptable qualifications of its faculty, an institution gives primary consideration to the highest earned degree in the discipline. The institution also considers competence, effectiveness, and capacity, including, as appropriate, undergraduate and graduate degrees, related work experiences in the field, professional licensure and certifications, honors and awards, continuous documented excellence in teaching, or other demonstrated competencies and achievements that contribute to effective teaching and student learning outcomes. For all cases, the institution is responsible for justifying and documenting the qualifications of its faculty.

When an institution defines faculty qualifications using faculty credentials, institutions should use the following as credential guidelines:

a. Faculty teaching general education courses at the undergraduate level: doctorate or master’s degree in the teaching discipline or master’s degree with a concentration in the teaching discipline (minimum of 18 graduate semester hours in the teaching discipline).

b. Faculty teaching associate degree courses designed for transfer to a baccalaureate degree: doctorate or master’s degree in the teaching discipline or master’s degree with a concentration in the teaching discipline (minimum of 18 graduate semester hours in the teaching discipline).

c. Faculty teaching associate degree courses not designed for transfer to the baccalaureate degree: bachelor’s degree in the teaching discipline, or associate’s degree and demonstrated competencies in the teaching discipline.

d. Faculty teaching baccalaureate courses: doctorate or master’s degree in the teaching discipline or master’s degree with a concentration in the teaching discipline (minimum of 18 graduate semester hours in the teaching discipline).

e. Faculty teaching graduate and post-baccalaureate coursework: earned doctorate/terminal degree in the teaching discipline or a related discipline.

f. Graduate teaching assistants: master’s in the teaching discipline or 18 graduate semester hours in the teaching discipline, direct supervision by a faculty member experienced in the teaching discipline, regular in-service training, and planned and periodic evaluations.
